MANIFESTO

Is Issued by Ex-Premier of Greece in Name of Liberal Party

ADVISES ABSTENTION FROM VOTING

At the Approaching General Elections

REACHED PARIS BY MAIL

After Transmission By Telegraph Prevented By Government of Greece—Asserts International Crisis Brought By Wreathing Power From Those In Whom People Confided.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Paris, Dec. 6.—Eliphtherios Venizelos, ex-premier of Greece, has issued a manifesto addressed in the name of the liberal party to the people of his country advising abstention from voting in the forthcoming general elections. The manifesto was issued November 21, but its transmission by telegraph was prevented by the Greek government and it reached Paris today by mail.

The manifesto calls attention to the fact that the international crisis was brought about solely by the wresting of power from those to whom the people had confided it at the last election.

"Day by day," says M. Menzies, "the constitution is deformed into a simple scrap of paper and we find ourselves at present in a deviation from our political principles amounting to suppression of the constitutional regime."

After calling attention to what he terms the difficulties that make fair elections impossible, M. Venizelos declares that the government is secretly arranging to have home-on-leave mobilized men which it can count upon to vote for government candidates, while all the adversaries of the government are being refused leaves of absence.

"The duty of the liberal party," says the ex-premier, is not to participate in political comedy, whose object is to prevent a manifestation of the national will, and to give an appearance which would be false that the elections were an approval by the people of the non-execution of the treaty of alliance, thanks to which Greece has extended her frontiers as far as Nestos."

"The liberal party has no intention to abandon the struggle and it would be a mistake to thus interpret its decision," says M. Venizelos who adds "that the parties object now is to prevent internecine strife and to leave the questions at issue to be settled after the exterior crisis has passed, if the disaster now being prepared by the government do not take on such proportions that the faith in a future Hellenism be not entirely shaken."

Ex-premier Venizelos points out what he calls the entire absence of necessity or excuse for an appeal to the people for the second time in a few months amid the confusion of war. He declares the chamber of deputies overturned the Greek cabinet not for the mere pleasure of exercising its opposition and that it would have accepted the new cabinet with the sole exclusion of the minister who had incited the chamber and says:

"In spite of the affront intentionally inflicted upon the national representation by the promotion of that (Continued on Page 8, Col. 3.)

TROOPS

Of Russia Are Ready to Cross the Balkan Frontier

WAVERING POLICY OF RUMANIA

Remains Unchanged While Greeks Parley

OFFICIAL COMMUNICATION

Issued at Athens States Greek Press Does Not Represent Views of Government Which is Optimistic Regarding a Successful Settlement—Reports From Battle Fronts.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) London, Dec. 6.—No solution has yet been reached of affairs in the Balkans. Russian troops, though long poised for action near the frontier of Rumania have not yet, so far as is known left their own territory. Rumania's policy still is one of wavering and the Greek situation despite diplomatic parleys and all sorts of reports of a successful settlement remains undeveloped.

According to latest reports from Athens both the entente group of powers and the Greek government are holding their ground—the entente reiterating its demands and Greece refusing to make concessions inconsistent with her sovereign rights.

An official communication has been issued at Athens to the effect that the Greek press does not represent the views of the Hellenic government which is said to be optimistic regarding a successful settlement, but the ground for this optimism which has failed to impress the newspapers and public either at Athens or in London is not given.

Premier Skouloudis again conferred yesterday with King Constantine, who afterwards received the French minister to Greece discussing the situation at some length.

Since most of the questions pending, says Reuters' correspondent at Athens are of military nature, the impression is general that their solution depends upon the decisions of the war council at Paris. The war council in Paris, on Saturday, together with the text of Italy's adhesion to the pact of London, agreeing not to conclude a separate peace, and the arrival in Paris of General Porro, second in command of the Italian army, are regarded here as gratifying signs of the increasing solidarity of the Entente allies and it is hoped by the British public that this closer union will soon bear fruit in a more energetic Balkan campaign.

The Bulgarians announce a further pursuit of Serbian forces through Albanian territory. The retreat of the Serbians is reported to have assumed the character of a precipitate flight along the Beli-Drini river towards Scutari. Further north the Austrians report that the Montenegrins fighting on their front here have been repulsed after offering violent resistance.

On the other fronts sporadic artillery duels and small engagements of local importance are reported.

ROCKEFELLER IN W. VA.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Fairmount, W. Va., Dec. 6.—John D. Rockefeller, Jr., will arrive here today from New York for a two-day inspection of properties in which he is interested. He will visit the Heller's Run and Wyatt coal fields.

France Declares There Will Be No Peace Until Alsace and Lorraine Are Re-established

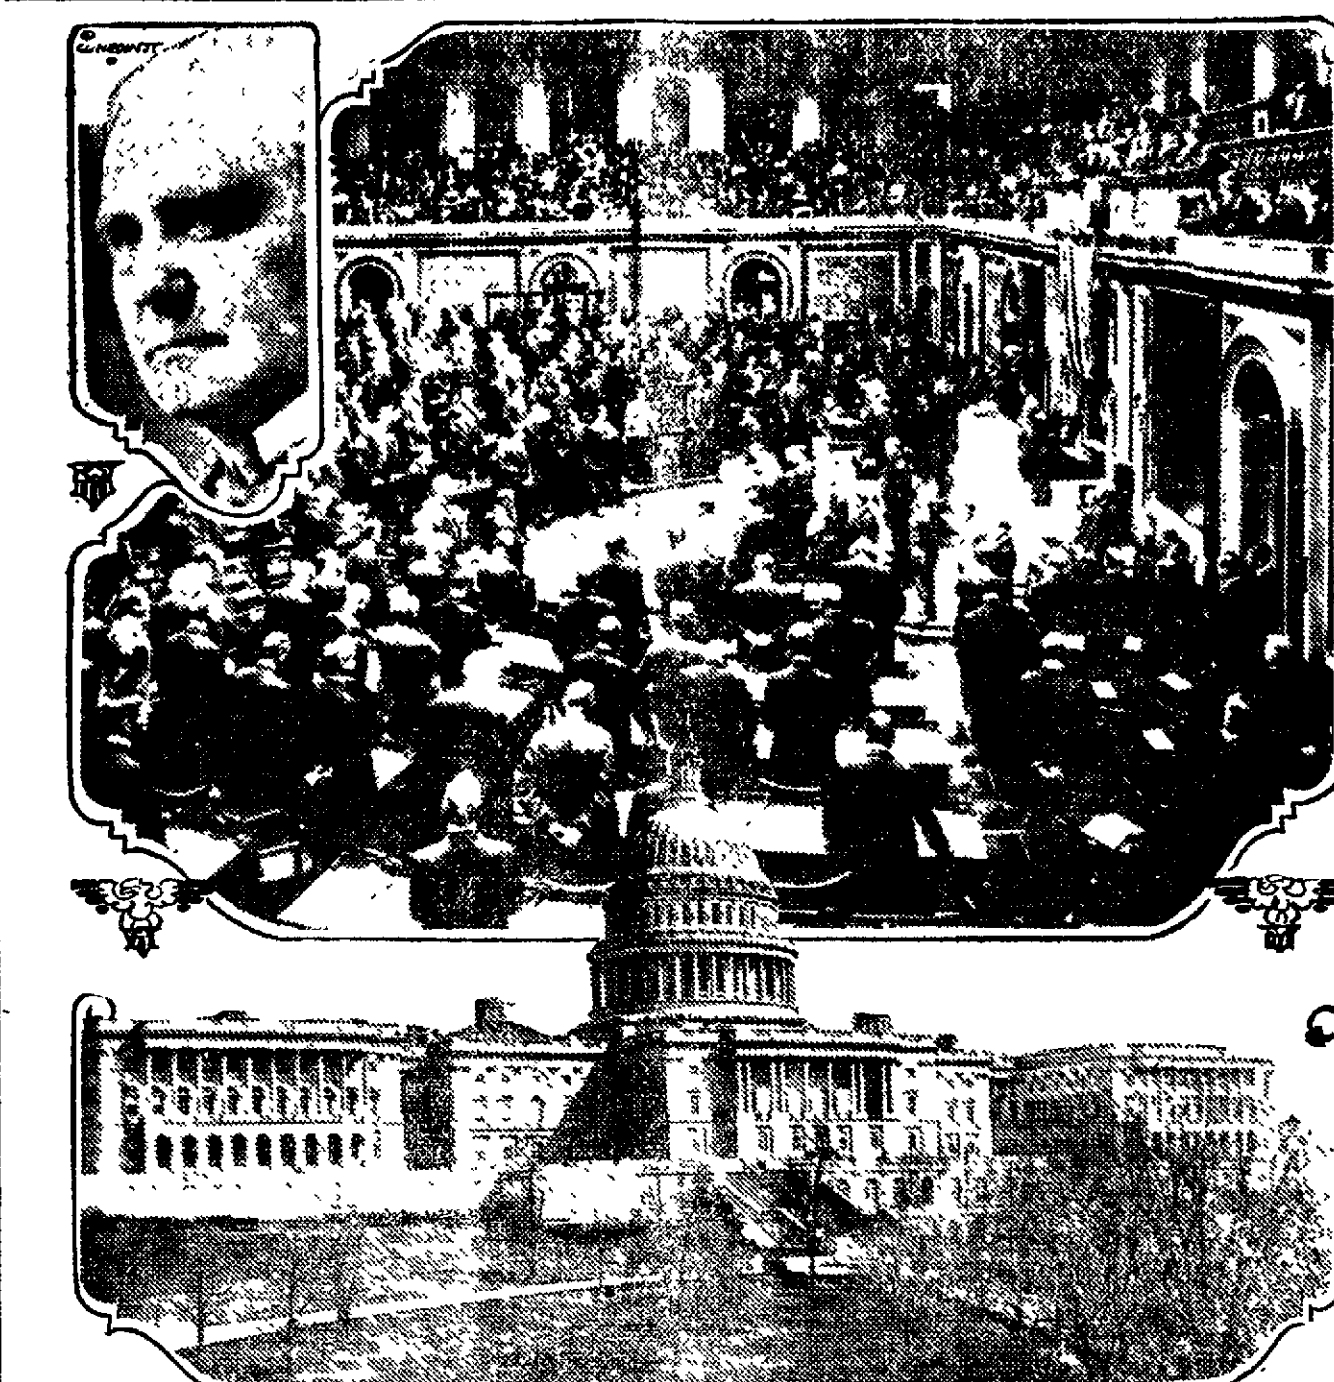

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Paris, Dec. 6.—France will not make peace until Alsace and Lorraine are won, Belgium and Serbia restored, and German imperialism and Russian militarism are put beyond the possibility of resurrection. "There will be no peace until a system of right founded upon the victorious union of the Allies, and supported by the free adherence of neutrals, has abolished forever the violence of war."

"Whatever may be the sacrifices France, united, will go steadily forward to accomplish this end. Today, before the terrible obstacle which confronts them, justice and liberty have only one road—that which our nation opens to them, with the machine gun and cannon."

The declaration of M. Thomas derives added significance from the fact that in addition to his connection with the cabinet, he is one of the leaders of the socialist party. Maurice Barres, president of the league of patriots who addressed the memorial meeting.

"What is the meaning of the determination of France to carry on the war to the end? He asked. "It means re-establishment of the European equilibrium and that no peace will be made until Alsace and Lorraine are returned and we are guaranteed of security from the German imperialism and Russian mili-

WHERE CONGRESS CONVENED TODAY

Speaker Champ Clark, House of Representatives in session and U. S. capitol.

FOUR CITIES ARE SEEKING CONVENTION

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Washington, Dec. 6.—Chairman William F. McCombs, and most of the members of the Democratic National committee were here today for the meeting of the committee tomorrow which will prepare for the coming presidential campaign. Chief interest, perhaps, in the committee's deliberations, centered in the selection of the time and place for the next Democratic National convention. Seeking the honor of being the "convention city" are Chicago, St. Louis, Dallas and San Francisco. Delegations from each of these cities were said to be prepared to offer the committee large cash inducements as well as every convenience.

President Wilson, it is announced, will occupy a neutral position in the contest. The committee also will endorse the works of the administration and of congress and elect a new treasurer to succeed Rolla Wells, of St. Louis, who will resign tomorrow and a successor to Joseph E. Davies, of Wisconsin, who has resigned as secretary. The election of Thomas J. Pence of this city, assistant to Chairman McCombs, as secretary was a foreseen.

While it is said, authoritatively that the committee will not formally indicate its preference for the Democratic candidate next year, President Wilson's renomination is expected by all the members.

MUST DEPEND ON THE UNITED STATES TO RESTORE PEACE

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Washington, Dec. 6.—President Wilson had on his list of callers today Baron Shibusawa, a prominent Japanese, who is touring this country in the interest of the international Sunday school congress to be held in Tokyo, after the war.

The Baron discussing the movement to restore peace in Europe declared the warring nations must look principally to the United States to pave the way to that end.

Baron Shibusawa expressed the conviction that Japan would be ready to do its part in maintaining peace in the orient and that Japan and the United States will be able to do much in preventing the recurrence of such disastrous calamities to humanity as the present war.

RIOTING STARTS WHEN STRIKERS RETURN TO WORK

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Cleveland, O., Dec. 6.—Rioting took place at the Theodore Kuntz war order automobile body plant today as 1800 men, on strike several weeks, returned to work, following a settlement. Men who had worked through the strike fought with strikers. Two were arrested and one sent to a hospital as the result of injuries.

INQUEST INTO MINERS' DEATHS OPENED TODAY

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Boomer, W. Va., Dec. 6.—The coroner's inquest into the explosion here last Tuesday at the mine of the Boomer Coal and Coke company, which resulted in the deaths of twenty-three men, opened today. More than fifty witnesses will be examined. The hearing will probably be in progress several days. Estimates here place the loss to the state workmen's compensation fund by the accident at $50,000. This amount includes the cost of burial. Sixteen of the men killed were married and had families.

County Prosecutors Ordered to File List of Names in Common Pleas by Attorney General.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Columbus, Dec. 6.—Attorney General Larimer today prepared orders which will be sent to every prosecuting attorney in the state within a few days calling upon them to file with common pleas courts in their respective counties lists of persons or organizations who did not file expenditure statements following the recent election.

The legal procedure in these cases, Mr. Larimer said, is for the common pleas court to set a certain date for the filing of these expense statements. This may be done only after the county prosecutor files the names of delinquents. If the persons or organizations fail to report within the time set by the court, they may then be prosecuted under the corrupt practices act. The attorney general estimated at least 1,000 have not yet filed their expense statements.

Prosecutors of Coshocton, Delaware, Noble, Putnam, Ross, Union and Wyandot counties have reported all expense statements filed in their counties. Orders already have been sent to prosecutors of Cuyahoga, Franklin, Hamilton, Jefferson and Marion counties. With the orders sent a list of those who had not complied with the law compelling filing of expense statements.

OHIO BUILDING AT EXPOSITION SELLS FOR $1500

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Columbus, Dec. 6.—The Ohio Building on the Panama-Pacific exposition grounds at San Francisco, together with part of the furniture and fixtures of the building, has been sold to the San Francisco County Club for $1500 according to word received here last night. The sale of the building, which was used in the exposition, netted the state $6,000. The original cost of the building was $60,000.

FEDERAL JURY AT 'FRISCO TO RESUME PROBE

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) San Francisco, Dec. 6.—The federal grand jury is expected to resume its investigation today into the alleged German dynamite plots to destroy munitions plants in the United States and ships bearing supplies to the entente allies. Interest in the proceedings of the inquirers is heightened by the fact that since their last session an additional arrest had been made here—that of Baron George Wilhelm von Brincken, charged with attempting to destroy commerce with the allies.

Von Brincken is out on $10,000 bail. His arrest took place after it had been held he was not, as he claimed, a military attaché of the German consul general and hence not immune from arrest.

It is expected that Robert Capelle, agent of the North German Lloyd Steamship company, will be brought before the grand jury as federal officers said they knew where to lay hands upon him when he was wanted. Search for him was begun following testimony in the trial of the officials of Hamburg-American steamship company in New York, that $750,000 was sent here for disbursements upon the orders of Captain Boy-Ed, naval attaché of the German embassy. Federal officials say they believe Capelle can give information regarding the funds with which the grand jury is concerned.

Louis J. Smith, upon whose testimony before the grand jury Von Brincken was arrested, and C. C. Crowley re-arrested, is expected to testify again today.

The preliminary hearing of Crowley, charged with conspiracy in connection with the alleged dynamite plots, has been postponed, pending the further investigations of the grand jury.

ASK REASONS FOR THE WITHDRAWAL OF CAPT. BOY-ED

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Washington, Dec. 6.—Count Bernstorff today presented to the state department a communication asking for the reasons for the request for the withdrawal of Captain Boy-Ed and Captain von Papen, the German naval and military attaches, respectively.

It was stated authoritatively though not in the communication, that the ambassador would under no consideration ask the United States to get safe conducts for the attaches. The German government was represented as considering it incumbent upon the United States government to return the attaches in safety to German territory and bring their successors here.

Clark Elected Amid Cheers of Members

Congress Again in Session After Vacation Through Summer, Adjourning Soon After Being Called to Order by Speaker, Until Tomorrow

PRESIDENT TO DELIVER HIS ANNUAL MESSAGE

To Joint Session Tomorrow In Hall of the House—Predicted That Present Session Will Be the Most Important and Historic in a Generation—Thirty-Two New Members Sworn In This Afternoon—Many Resolutions Poured Into the Hopper, a Number Touching On the National Defense Measure—Old Timers Hold Receptions.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Washington, Dec. 6.—Congress reassembled at noon today for what promises to be the most important and historic session of a generation. Proceedings in both house and senate were brief, being confined entirely to organization and formal introduction of some bills and resolutions. In accordance with custom both soon adjourned and sent a committee to formally notify President Wilson that congress was in session.

To morrow the real work of the session begins when President Wilson delivers his annual address to a joint session assembled in the hall of the house. Speaker Clark was re-elected and sworn in amid cheers from the floor and galleries. In the senate, the organization was perfected by the election of Senator Clark of Arkansas as president pro tempore.

Vice President Marshall was not in the chair for the opening.

In his opening address to the house, the speaker paid tribute to Republican Leader Mann, and predicted a practically continuous session hereafter.

The senate floor and galleries presented the usual scene. Jas. H. Baker, the secretary, called the session to order and the chaplain prayed for divine guidance for the preservation of peace at home and its restoration abroad.

Thirty-two newly elected senators then were sworn in.

Resolutions reflecting the views of those opposed to the national defense program and proposing investigations of organizations which favor military preparedness were not lacking. In the lost were resolutions to investigate the navy league, the national security leagues and the American defense society.

After swearing in the new members, the senate recessed until 2.30 o'clock.

In the house meanwhile, bills and resolutions were pouring into the hopper at the clerks desk. National defense measures predominated and there were many proposals for various investigations. There were many bills for rural credits, river and harbor improvements, extension of the rural mail service and a large number of the so-called private bills. Many will get no further than the stage of introduction.

The business of introducing bills did not deter some of the returning old timers from holding receptions. Former Speaker Cannon, representatives Hill, Longworth, and McKinley and others, as well as the leaders of both parties, were center of groups of the state arrivals.

Seven contests of elections were filed with the house when congress convened.

Aaron P. Prioleau, a negro, who for 16 years has been contesting all elections to congress from the Charleston, S. C., district today again filed contest against seating Richard C. Whaley. Other contests filed are:

Francis J. Horgan, Democrat, against George H. Tinkham, Republican, Massachusetts; W. R. Gaylord, social Democrat, against William J. Carey, Republican, Wisconsin; Jeremiah Donovan, Democrat, against E. J. Hill, Republican, Connecticut; Jacob Cantor, Democrat, against Isaac Hiegle, Republican, New York; Philip A. Riley, Democrat, against R. L. Haskell, Republican, New York; Lathrop Brown, Democrat, against Frederick C. Hicks, Republican, New York.

The vote on the speakership was 221 to 194 with six members voting "present." The roll call at the opening of the house had shown an attendance of 427 but only 421 votes were cast on the speakership. Four Progressives and Representative London of New York, the lone Socialist, voted present. The two other Progressives, Copley of Illinois and Stephens of California, voted for Representative Mann, Republican.

After Speaker Clark had been sworn, the entire membership was sworn in by states.

Washington, Dec. 6.—The opening of the sixty-fourth congress today drew thousands of persons to the capitol. The day began with overcast skies and sharp, cold winds, but this did not dampen the enthusiasm of the crowds. Hundreds began gathering at the historic building early and long before noon, the hour set for the fall of the gavel in the house and senate signaling the opening of congress, the galleries had filled to overflowing.

Outside were hundreds waiting in the hope of getting much coveted seats.

Many of them were doomed to disappointment however, as those who had not already obtained tickets stood little chance of being admitted. Seats had been reserved for the president's official family, the diplomatic corps and members of families and their friends.

Many visitors, including noted suffrage advocates, had been drawn to the capitol to witness the offering by Representative Mondell, of Wyoming, of the Susan B. Anthony constitutional amendment for equal suffrage at the first session of the new congress.

Shanghai Arsenal Attacked by Rebels, Who Compel Loyal Crew to Fire Upon Warships

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Shanghai, Dec. 6.—Three outbreaks by small bands of rebels within the last 24 hours have been put down by the authorities who now apparently have the situation well in hand. The cruiser Chao-Ho, seized yesterday by forty men who boarded her from a launch was abandoned by the rebels early today after she had been shelled and set on fire. It was reported at first that the crew of the Chao-Ho had mutinied, but it developed today that the bombardment by the cruiser of other warships and the arsenal was carried on under compulsion from the rebels who surprised and overpowered the crew. Three men on the cruiser were killed and five wounded.

An attack from land on the arsenal at midnight was repulsed quickly after some rifle firing.

The third outbreak occurred at four o'clock this morning. A party of 30 or 40 rebels attacked the Chapeau sub-police station throwing bombs which killed one policeman and injured three. The outbreaks were dispersed by troops. Although a number of shots fell in the foreign settlement no damage of importance was done there.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Shanghai, Dec. 6.—The crew of the Chinese cruiser Chao-Ho abandoned the vessel early today, after it had been bombarded and set on fire. A band of rebels attacked the arsenal at midnight but was repulsed. The authorities now appear to have complete command of the situation.

Three of the crew were killed and five were wounded. After the engagement last evening between the Chao-Ho and the loyal crews of the cruiser Hal-Chi and the gunboat, the Ching-Ching there was no further firing by the warships until shortly before dawn. At that time the cruiser Ying-Swei opened fire on the Chao-Ho. A shot struck the Chao-Ho abaft the bridge.

Fire broke out on the Chao-Ho. The rebels embarked on the launch which put out to the cruiser from the foreign settlement yesterday before the fight began.

The attack on the arsenal at midnight was made from the direction of the Hang Chow railway. There

Annual Lodge of Sorrow Held Sunday Afternoon at Auditorium Theatre

Beautiful and impressive were the memorial services of the Elks held Sunday afternoon at the Auditorium in memory of the departed brothers of Newark Lodge, No. 391, B. P. O. E. It was the annual Lodge of Sorrow held by every Elk Lodge in the United States, or wherever one may have been organized in its possessions.

This year's services were undoubtedly one of the best which have ever been held and was witnessed by an audience which completely filled the lower auditorium and the greater part of the balcony. The stage was attractively decorated, palms, ferns, and a large basket of chrysanthemums, occupying the front. In an alcove in the rear, electrically lighted a "Rock of Ages" had been built the perspective effect being heightened by the draping of American flags around the border behind which in bold relief stood forth a large white cross on which were placed thirty-two electric bulbs, representing the number of honored dead since the institution of the order in this city. Leading to the base of the cross were rocks over which had been strewn greenery and lilies of the valley, the whole being a handsome design and reflecting great credit upon those who had charge of its installation.

The members of the Elk Lodge and visiting brothers, a large number of whom were present, met at the Elk club rooms at 2 o'clock and shortly before 2:30 marched in a body to the Auditorium and were assigned seats which had been reserved for them, the eight ushers, Messrs. Paul Collins, Albert Gleichauf, O. A. Griffith, W. M. Brown, Frank Ewald, Ray Wintermute, David Thompson, Homer Glancy and C. F. Ferguson all wearing evening suits.

When the curtain was raised it disclosed the officers of the lodge, the musicians and the speakers seated. The Lodge of Sorrow was then called to order by Exalted Ruler James R. Cooper and the ritualistic work under his direction was most impressive. Mr. Cooper's voice was heard to the innermost parts of the large theatre and as he explained the calling of the Lodge of Sorrow with the polished voice of the finished orator it assisted materially in the touching and affecting objects which were drawn from its teachings. As Secretary R. L. Rhoades called the name of each member of the order who has passed away, a light went out on the cross, representing the thirty-two members of the local lodge who have been called to the Great Beyond. Exalted Ruler Cooper was assisted by W. K.

Daugherty, Esteemed Loyal Knight, Paul Morrison, Esteemed Lecturing Knight, R. L. Rhoades, Secretary, W. W. Gard, Treasurer, Karl Schaller, Esquire, Gus Weigand, Tyler, Nelson D. Metz, Chaplain and Trustees, H. H. Baker, W. D. Jones and W. H. Broom, all the officers wearing evening suits.

A quartette from Columbus furnished the music, Miss Carrie Porter, soprano, Mrs. Maude Wentz, MacDonald, contralto, E. A. McGeever, tenor and W. H. Kutschbach, bass. A Grand piano was used, E. J. Williams also of Columbus, being the pianist.

After the opening service "Rock of Ages" was rendered by the quartette and the Opening Ode was sung by the members and the invocation was delivered by Dr. L. C. Sparks, pastor of the First Methodist Episcopal church the orison teeming with beautiful phrases appropriate to the solemn occasion.

Miss Porter and Mrs. MacDonald next rendered a duet, "My Faith Looks Up to Thee." The music of the quartette and the different numbers which were given by its members will long be remembered by all present. The beautiful Dudley Buck "Rock of Ages" brought tears to the eyes of many while the Bassford number, the duet, gave Miss Porter and Mrs. MacDonald a wide range in which high notes were sung and which are seldom attainable even by the professional singer.

Attorney Frank E. Bolton gave the eulogy. Those fortunate in hearing it, pronounced it one of the best ever heard in this city. The talented attorney was at his best and his delivery was most excellent, every sentence falling from his lips, in fact every word being distinct, plain and well-defined. He exercised more than ordinary rhetorical skill in his discourse and his composition was of high attainment. His praise and laudation in commendation of the departed brothers displayed the true spirit of Elkindom and his eulogy will long linger in the heart and memory of every Elk present at the services. Mr. Bolton said in full:

By the ritual of our order we are called here this afternoon to Garland the memory of our departed brothers. It is particularly appropriate that this day should be selected in this sad season of the dying year when the desolation of death is impressed upon the face of nature and everything around and about us suggests the final and inevitable doom of man. Our task today is one of sorrow and tears. Pride, grief and love are emotions that find but poor expression in human speech. The artist may paint the likeness of our friends, the sculptor may fashion their forms to artistic perfection, the orator may thrill us with his word pictures, but over it all is the mask of human frailty, the limitations of humanity, and whatever broken sentences of love and veneration I may utter but poorly clothe the sentiments that inspire them.

Today brings its sad but sacred memories of other days when other hearts beat in sympathy and other lips responded that are now stilled in death. All things that live must die, it is nature's inexorable law. It comes to the king in his glory, prince with his millions, the statesman in the full bloom of his honor, the beggar in his squalor; it stills the tongue of the orator, severs the chord in the tide of song and drinks from the blushes of beauty the mingled hues of the rose and the lily.

No matter how fair the dawn; no matter how majestically the sun may mount to the zenith; no matter though the day be the sweetest and fairest our lives have ever known a wreck will mark the end of each and all. Death cannot always wait its victim weakened and infirm with age sinks calmly into its embrace, but with despotic tyranny the strongest and fairest are taken, the cradle itself despoils to enrich the grave. Every life, no matter if its every hour is filled with love, and every moment jeweled with a joy will in the end become a tragedy as dark and deep as can be woven of the warp and woof of the mysteries of life and death. Human life, human hope, human love and happiness are but the play things of this dread despot. Death is no more a mystery to the living than is life itself, and yet men go blindly forward "chasing each his favorite phantom."

I ask what is life? Dreams, awakening, death. Life is a pendulum between a smile and a tear. A poor player that struts and frets his hour upon the stage, and then is heard no more. Life is a child blown bubble that reflects the shadow of its environment and is gone. Bygone ages have made of this world one mighty sepulchre, and yet man unmindful of the miracle of his creation pursues his daily course with but little thought of the day when he, too, must die.

Although this day is particularly consecrated to our dead no more appropriate occasion could present itself for the contemplation of those things that are not only useful to us as Elks but as men. The right hand of fellowship that is daily extended to our brothers in life reaches out this afternoon beyond the grave for the clasp that is not returned. Oh, death tear away thy mask; Oh, grave open thy eternal jaws, let us once more return the handclasp of our brothers, once more hear their words of cheer, once more enjoy the smiles and sunshine of their presence. We cry aloud and the only answer is the echo of our wailing cry. From the voiceless lips of the unreprieved dead there comes no word. To the memory of their lives we must turn for inspiration. Who is there among you that has not felt the influence of our brethren who have passed to eternity? No matter what station a man may occupy in life, whether he be peasant or king, civilian or statesman, rich or poor, freeman or slave, the influence of his life remains after death.

Our lives are valuable as they incarnate ideas, as they exemplify virtues. The peasant in his vine-clad hut, with his peace and toil, unknown to fame, is more of an inspiration to posterity than the wreath crowned conqueror who had murdered and plundered. The greatest names in history have pointed from their lofty heights to the lowly mother with her prayer, the father with his toil, and self-sacrificing friends whose lives have been an inspiration to them. The influences of life are eternal. The tomb cannot enclose them. They escape from its portals and pervade our everyday life like unseen spirits guiding and controlling human actions and thoughts. We are living today in the midst of the accumulated influences of bygone ages. We are unconsciously transmitting and shaping the destinies of the future. In the hurry and rush of modern life we are apt to forget not only our departed brethren but the obligations that we owe to one another.

Our order does not offer a religion, nor does it offer a new code of morals, but its principles of living are equally applicable to all men. Elks do not pretend that they are better than their neighbors who are not Elks, but we do claim that every Elk should be a better man because he is an Elk. Our order pretends to be no more than an aid to the proper application of the Golden Rule to the daily transactions of life and its mottoes, Charity, Brotherly Love, Justice and Fidelity are but the reflections of it. It says to its members that no man can be a true man or a true Elk unless he has charity in his heart. Not the mere giving of alms, but rather the charity of pity, the charity of forgiveness, the charity of love, the charity that is cognizant of human weaknesses and allows for them, the charity that stops the babble of the slanderous tongue, the charity of a Christ who while suffering the agony of crucifixion breathed to heaven a prayer, "Father, forgive them, for they know not what they do." It says to its members that no man can be a true Elk who does not give justice. Not justice to Elks to the exclusion of all others. Not the justice that demands a pound of flesh because it is so written in the bond, but justice tempered with mercy. It says to its members that you must have brotherly love. Not the mere mouthing of words, but rather a broad, generous, unselfish love, of our fellows without expectation or concern as to what we may receive in return. For "there is boggery in the love that can be reckoned." The kind of brotherly love that dispels gloom, changes moans and sobs into songs and wipes away tears and places in their stead jewels of joy and smooths the wrinkles from the brow of care. It says to its members you must have fidelity. You must be loyal to your brothers, living and dead.

It is the electron that binds and holds us together. It is the tie wherein each joins hands with common intent and by organized effort makes of us better men for having been Elks. A fidelity that is gauged not only by our loyalty to our brothers. It has been one of the high purposes of this order to teach us to remember death and our departed brothers. In remembering our dead we are more apt to be mindful of the obligations that we owe to the living. Many of you here today have a headache for which there is no earthly remedy. A father, son or brother may have left a void at your hearthstone that can never be filled. Yet who can doubt that the purpose of that life have been fully accomplished. Not what he may have purposed doing, but the purpose of Him who created him, of Him who in the very first moment of conception cast without chance of error the possibilities. Each day, each hour, each moment brings us closer to the day of our re-union with our departed brothers. Would that I with magic touch might unlock the treasure chest of the past and make our memories and dreams realities. Would that I could go back through the list of our honored dead and recall each and all, pay to each the tribute he deserves, portray his noble qualities and virtues, and touch the chord that binds our hearts and thine. Would that I could offer a solace and balm to hearts that hunger for a love that has passed. They may be gone and forgotten by some but to us they are merely absent and their memories will be kept green and the light in our hearts ever glow until we too shall have passed away.

During the past year the grim reaper has demanded more than his ordinary toll. Five of our brothers have gone to join their brothers in the Supreme Lodge, and are at rest on the bosom of the Exalted Ruler of the universe, William H. Williams, Ellsworth McElroy, Bush Sargent, Joseph Kuster Sr. and Max Winkler. William H. Williams, a strong character, a useful citizen. He had just reached that time of life when the days of golden harvest were upon him. His mind active, his heart big and warm, his appetite to enjoy and capacity to lighten the cares of others infinite. Consciously or unconsciously the mottoes of our order found expression in his every act. His life should be an inspiration to every true Elk. His death leaves a void in our midst that cannot be filled. He had the capacity and disposition to see the sun through every cloud. Gloom fled from his presence like darkness at the approach of day. What a happy contented world this would be if all men would imitate his sterling qualities.

Ellsworth McElroy. It was my pleasure to know this man long before he was stricken with the fatal ailment that finally brought about his dissolution. With a fortitude that was truly marvelous he bore the ill that overtook him and through it all he smiled. McElroy was one of nature's noblemen. He possessed a fineness of character and goodness of heart that is sometimes written in men's faces. Who is there among you that will not miss his quiet, gentle, unassuming and wholesome presence? Words but poorly express the feeling of love and admiration that all of us feel towards this man and our sorrow must find expression in tears alone.

W. B. Sargent. Probably no man was ever identified with our order whose loss will be more keenly felt, and no man ever belonging to this lodge was more attached to it. Strange the meeting indeed that he failed to attend. The club and the lodge were his home and his hearthstone. The mottoes of the order were his religion. His goodness was not of the type that found expression in ceremonious piety. It found expression in the hand clasp of friendship. It found voice in a word of cheer to a discouraged brother. Probably no store ever told would be more interesting in its details than the story of this man's life. He was a man. He was a man's man. The hand time only accentuated his broad and generous nature. Whether communing with nature in her brooks or fields, at work or play, he was always the same genial, companionable, lovable "Bush." Through his long years of membership in our order his ardor was never dimmed, and his faith never lessened. "Bush" has gone, but his spirit still watches over and will ever watch over and guide the destinies of the order he loved so well.

Joseph Kuster Sr., mere words must fail us in attempting to express the sentiments we feel in the loss of this grand old man. A long life, a useful one. A kindly eye, an enduring presence. A disposition as broad as human nature, a heart as sensitive as the most tender flower, man was never molded of finer clay. A life of labor and love. He passed from the zenith of his endeavors into the twilight and shadows of the arms

COLD WEATHER RHEUMATISM

Why should rheumatism, a disease of the blood, be worse in cold weather than in summer?

The rheumatic poison in the blood is the predisposing cause of the disease. If you have the taint in your blood you may have rheumatism whenever the exciting cause starts it to action. Cold weather and dampness are exciting causes of rheumatism. They excite to action something already in the blood, something that you must get rid of if you would be free from rheumatism.

What this something is, nobody knows. Not very long ago it was thought to be uric acid. Many doctors now think it a microscopic organism or a specific bacillus, but they cannot find the bacillus.

It is a known fact that in rheumatism the blood becomes thin rapidly, that building up the blood relieves the rheumatism and that there will be no return of the rheumatism as long as the condition of the blood is maintained. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are recommended for rheumatism because they keep the blood rich and red and free from rheumatic poisons.

The freebook, "Building Up the Blood" tells all about the treatment. Send for a copy today to the Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y. Your nearest drugstore sells Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

SYRUP OF FIGS FOR CROSS, SICK FEVERISH CHILD

IF LITTLE STOMACH IS SOUR,
LIVER TORPID OR BOWELS
CLOGGED.

Mothers can rest easy, after giving "California Syrup of Figs," because in a few hours all the clogged food gently moves out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again. Children simply will not take the time from play to empty their bowels, and they become tightly packed, liver gets sluggish and stomach disordered.

When cross, feverish, restless, see if tongue is coated, then give this delicious "fruit laxative." Children love it, and it can't cause injury. No difference what ails your little one—If full of cold, or a sore throat, diarrhoea, stomachache, remember, a gentle "inside cleansing" should always be the first treatment given. Full directions for babies, children of all ages and grown-ups are printed on each bottle.

Beware of counterfeit fig syrups. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," then look carefully and see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company." We make no smaller size. Hand back with contempt any other fig syrup.

of his Maker. Endowed by nature with a vigorous body and by God with a generous disposition he lived his life in the wherein the rewards of right living is life itself. His name is associated with the name of our city wherever the same is known. He has passed into that dreamless sleep to await the last call. No man can reflect upon his long and useful life and not feel that he has profited by having known him. Men like him make humanity broader and better and the world happier because he was born. His name will always be a source of pride to this lodge, an enduring monument to the community, a beacon of love and joy to his family, and an inspiration to his friends.

Max J. Winkler. Death came to Max Winkler in the full vigor of his manhood and the full maturity of his faculties. To look upon him it seemed as though that healthfulness of temper and body would have carried him through a century filled with ambition and ideals. Rugged in frame and in character his very presence breathed a life current into his home, business and social life that was at once both a joy and an inspiration. He never looked aside because the path seemed difficult to climb. He turned with fury upon every simple task presented to him. Brimful of life and hope and happiness he felt the crush of the tyrant's heel and passed to silence and dust. He had only reached that point in the road that was all roses and sunshine and wearied for the moment he fell into that dreamless sleep. Just in the happiest, sweetest hour of all the voyage while eager winds were kissing every sail he dashed against the unseen rock and in an instant the billows roared over a sunken ship. Max Winkler has left a monument in his life that no words of mine can adorn and no thought make more attractive. There was something big and inspiring in his presence, something contagious in his manner that entwined itself around our hearts.

These deaths so lately in our midst remind each of us of our own mortality, and the approach of the inevitable hour that awaits us all. It admonishes us of the fleeting and evanescent nature of life. Our stay here is but for an hour at best. Every step we take is towards the grave. The smile of yesterday is but a memory today. We are but poor weak creatures struggling on through time to eternity, possessing only consciousness of the present, memories of the past and hope for the future. Today we feel our weakness and common dependence upon one another. Today our hearts are filled with sorrow for the dead and kindness for the living. Let it be so tomorrow and every other tomorrow our lives shall know. Let us keep the memory of our dead fresh and green, cover their graves with a profusion of flowers, that speak of life eternal, love and joy and charity, a fragrant intercession ascending through the clouds and misery of the world to the throne of the Almighty. Let their petaled lips and perfumed breath pronounce our benediction. A benediction too tender for thought or expression.

"To me there is no sting to death. The grave has lost its victory. It is but crossing with suspended breath.

And white set face a little strip of sea. To find the loved ones on the other shore. More beautiful, more precious than before.

As we have done today, other men so long as time will last this sad memorial shall keep. Other voices of love shall speak, other hearts in harmony beat, other tears in sorrow shed, for we, too, shall be absent, brothers.

"Spirit Immortal," by Verdi, was next sung by Mr. Kutschbach and the quartette. Mr. Kutschbach has an excellent bass voice which he can use to advantage and the number was truly well worth hearing. His modulation was a revelation and the Verdi selection gave the singer a wide range, but he was more than equal to the occasion.

The memorial address was delivered by Hon. S. M. Nicholas, of Coshocton. Judge Nicholas is almost as well known in Newark as he is in Coshocton. He has presided on the common pleas bench in this city on many occasions and here it is in his native city. Judge Nicholas is one of the most congenial of men. He is perfectly at home in any walk or station of life and he is a true Elk. The red blood of Elkindom flows through his veins and he is a thorough believer in all its precepts. He has possibly presided at more Elk gatherings than any other one man in the state and is always the life of such occasions.

Judge Nicholas spoke along a line yesterday afternoon which while it might have been thought a little foreign to the occasion, taught lessons of loyalty and citizenship to all and pointed out a path for all Elks to follow and which would redound to their credit when life's work was over. He spoke of the great conflict raging in Europe and how this nation had succored thousands upon thousands, made homeless and destitute through wars vicissitudes and how after the conflict had ended the United States would be found sending its ships across the seas laden with bread, provisions and clothing to aid humanity.

The speaker then touched upon our government and its program of preparedness and went thoroughly into his subject. He favored an army and navy necessary to maintain our dignity as a world power but thought that the expenditure of billions of dollars, such as is contemplated in the next few years, would raise the question of sincerity in our peace declarations with our foreign neighbors. Judge Nicholas' address was masterly and thoroughly enjoyed by everyone. He spoke extemporaneously and it is regrettable that it cannot be given in full. He closed by quoting one of Kipling's poems applicable to the occasion.

After the rendition of "In That Beautiful Home," by the quartette, closing services by the lodge and the singing of the Doxology by the lodge and audience the benediction was pronounced by Dr. Sparks.

The memorial committee having the arrangements in charge was composed of W. D. Fulton, W. W. Guard and Mandel Brashear, and these gentlemen are entitled to the credit for the success of this year's Lodge of Sorrow.

Spirit of the Press

Our Foreign Complications.
No respect can be shown toward the intellectual dishonesty and hypocrisy which professes to want peace and yet forever snubbing at the President's heels because he adheres to the only method by which a peaceful settlement of our foreign complications can be obtained.—New York World.

Worth the Fine?
A man who sought to drive an automobile with one hand on the steering-gear and an arm around the neck of a woman companion has had to pay a court fine of $100. That sort of ambidexterity may have passed scathless in the old days of horse-drawn vehicles, but it has become a dangerous anarchy and is properly punishable, as in this case.—New York World.

A Child's Suicide.
The suicide of little Ruth Fischer, 10-year-old schoolgirl in a suburb of Chicago, saddens everyone who reads. At her age, life ought to be happy with no trouble too great to be conquered by sleep. Moreover, she had a happy home, kind foster parents, no suffering from want or home tragedy. And yet she took her own life. Why? A schoolmate testifies that she was afraid she had failed in a school examination and her adopted father would be angry. That is something for fathers and mothers to think of, but it was not the real cause of the tragedy. All through her school days, this little girl had been taunted and sneered at by her schoolmates, and for what reason? Because she was an adopted child and did not even know who her own parents were. But why did these schoolmates think this? The mother of less account than themselves? It was not their own idea, certainly. It came from the careless, gossiping tongues of their elders. The suicide of this little girl is a sad commentary on our actual, living standards of kindness, on the way we let our loose thinking run away with our tongues until tragedy results of which we had not dreamed.—Milwaukee Journal.

Don't Kick.
Justice Oliver Wendell Holmes of the United States supreme court in a recent decision said: "The defendant kicked against this." Purists are charging him with use of slang where and when it is not in good taste. To this charge he deigns no reply, even an informal one. Why should he? It is true he might have said "protested" or "objected." But why? "Kick" has long been used to sum up personal resistance to anything supposed to be adverse to personal welfare or desire. It is so used in the Bible. Wycliffe in 1388, Latimer in 1549, and other of the British divines found the word expressive when describing opposition; and Tennyson, Freeman and Bageot of latter-day authors have been equally free to employ the term when wishing to express the same thought.—Christian Science Monitor.

Food in Germany.
Several of the German newspapers have been discussing the food situation with extreme candor. They'll do so no more, according to a dispatch from Copenhagen; they will cut off the supply of a variety of news that has been read with the keenest interest in England and France, but it will not reduce the prices of food in Germany, or increase the quantity. Furthermore, the newspaper discussions of food indicate that the transit of wheat from Bulgaria to Germany has had no marked effect yet. Maximilian Harden is quoted as saying in his paper: "We must confess that the German people for the moment are suffering great want." The Copenhagen dispatch does not mention whether his paper is one of those that have been suspended, but we should think it must be.—Philadelphia Record.

To Be Alone.
One ought to cultivate the habit of being alone a few minutes, at least, every day. To sit in solitude for a time, to feel that there is not a human near you—that is a relief from the daily grind that refreshes and re-creates.
The companionship of friends, the personal contact with one's fellow's the associations about the home—these things are pleasant; but one must be alone at times even to appreciate at their full worth these communications with his fellow-man. It would be well if one could establish a habit of retiring from the world for a few minutes every day. Not that one could be expected to go to the forests, or to the wilderness; that is not necessary. One does not have to travel far to get away from associates. He can go into a room, and close the door. But wherever his shrine, wherever he establishes the seat of his solitude, he ought to occasionally be to himself for a portion of the day.—Dayton News.

Only a Just Reward.
Hast it occurred to any one that the Republican Presidential nominee ought to hail from Vermont and his running mate from Utah? Those were the only States that went Republican in 1912, and they deserve reward.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Rippling Rhymes

The Old Virtues.
The old-fashioned virtues are not out of date; they'll never relapse to abandoned estate. The records will show you that honesty pays, as much as it did in the halcyon days. And industry brings reputation and scads, the same as it did in the times of our dads. Sobriety helps us to lay up a wad, the larder to fill when the wolf is abroad. The silver-tongued speakers are jaunting around, and filling the air with a riot of sound, instructing the people just how they should vote, if they would be sure of retaining their goat; they're talking of creeds and of isms and things, and nothing of value the spell-binder brings. The world would be better if speakers would boom the old-fashioned virtues, and keep them in bloom, and say to the people, "Don't worry, don't fret, be honest and sober and keep out of debt." Oh, that is the counsel the plain people need; it's better than platitudes going to seed. The old-fashioned virtues much sustenance give; when they are adhered to, they teach us to live, and when we are ready to murmur good by, they show us how sportsmanlike delegates die.

The most widespread disease in the world

The most widespread disease in the world today is that dread affection of the teeth called pyorrhea. Nine out of every ten grown persons have it to some extent. You may have it and be unaware of it. Why? Because scientists have proved that the cause of this disease is a germ which inhabits every human mouth, and that thousands have this disease and do not realize it until it reaches the advanced stages of bleeding gums and loose teeth.

Accept the advice dentists everywhere are giving and take special precautions in your daily toilet against this disease. To meet the need for such a daily treatment and to enable everyone to take the necessary precautions against this disease, a prominent dentist has put his own prescription before the public in the convenient form of Senreco Tooth Paste.

Senreco contains the best corrective and preventive for pyorrhea known to dental science. Used daily it will successfully protect your teeth from this disease. Senreco also contains the best harmless agent for keeping the teeth clean and white. It has a refreshing flavor and leaves a wholesomely clean, cool and pleasant taste in the mouth.

Sample size

Start the Senreco treatment tonight—full details in the folder wrapped-around every tube. Symptoms described. A 25c two oz. tube is sufficient for six or eight weeks of the pyorrhea treatment. Birth of a Nation.

When the Corn Boys' party reached Philadelphia and was joined by Governor Willis a difficulty arose which was settled only by the meeting of the governor's demands. Arrangements had been made by the conductor of the excursion to take all the tourists to see "The Birth of a Nation," one of the most remarkable and instructive motion picture features ever filmed. A theater had been reserved for the afternoon performance. Governor Willis insisted that none should be allowed to see the film, which by his orders had been refused admittance to Ohio after it had been passed by the Board of Censors. It is charged that the governor's action is taken as a political plan to curry favor with the negro voters, but that as a matter of fact it is resented by the educated class. "The Birth of a Nation" has to do with the reconstruction period of the South and exemplifies the rise of the nation at the end of the war of the Rebellion. The interference of Governor Willis with the censor board's work has been resented, but the resentment is more acute at an action taken in another state where the film has been voted entirely proper. Instead of going to the theater as planned the Corn Boys' excursion had the pleasure of listening to a speech by Governor Willis, and as a substitute for the classic they were permitted to attend a vaudeville show in the evening.

Storing Seed Corn.

"Seed corn, to germinate well next spring, should receive careful attention regarding its storing during the winter months," says W. E. Hanger, field corn specialist, Ohio State University. "It must have free circulation of air at ordinary temperatures to allow excessive moisture to evaporate and to prevent any fungous growth or chemical changes in the kernel," he states. Mr. Hanger recommends hanging rows of ten ears each tied together with strings from the rafters of a well ventilated building or shed. Other methods used are: placing the ears on wire hammocks suspended in well ventilated places, and stored in racks in the attic. Seed corn should be selected as early as possible and never allowed to be stored with the crib corn. A little attention to the seed now may save a poor stand, because of low viability at planting time.

Ford's New Plan.

(Cleveland Leader.)

The Ford peace ship departed from New York Saturday with a different sentiment toward it on the part of the American people than existed two days ago. Instead of being a mere joke, it embodies a real hope and a possibility.
So long as it was Mr. Ford's plan to send out a wireless call at a given time, summoning all the soldiers in the European trenches to throw down their arms and go to their homes, the expedition was as absurd as Don Quixote's warfare against the windmills. But now that the purpose is to assemble in The Hague men and women of neutral nations for the purpose of considering means for bringing about peace, the case is quite different. This idea is a rational one, even though the chance for success is so remote as to be practically non-existent.

The men and women whom Mr. Ford will gather together to ask the warring nations of Europe to cease fighting will not represent their own countries. They have not been delegated by their governments or their people for this mission. They are acting merely as individuals. Some of them are either cranks or visionaries. The chancelleries of Europe will not give them official recognition.
Yet out of this conference may come that which will suggest to the statesmen of Europe considerations which will bring about peace more quickly than seems to them possible now. If the amended Ford plan meets with popular support in Norway, Sweden, Denmark, Holland and Spain that he hopes for, at least they will be afforded a demonstration of the desire which the people of all the neutral nations have that the shedding of blood shall cease. And that cannot but have some effect.

If Nations Knew One Another Better.

(Columbus Sunday Dispatch.)

It is suggested by a Chicago publication that, if Henry Ford really wants to do something practical in the way of world peace he might create a fund of $10,000,000 to establish scholarships for a thousand Japanese students in this country every year. The idea is that, with a thousand of Japan's most influential young men going back to Japan every year for ten years, the whole population of Japan would soon be predisposed in our favor. In other words, if the Japanese do not love us, it is because they do not know us.

But why should this arrangement be one-sided? Why not also have a fund to send American students to Japan, with special reference to the youth of the Pacific coast states, where the troubles with Japan are ways originate? Americans need quite as much to know Japan as Japanese need to know America. And while we are about it, why not have a fund to bring a few Mexican youth to our educational institutions every year? If there is any country on the globe wherein the United States is misunderstood and maligned, it is Mexico, with its ignorance and prejudice. The thought at the heart of the proposition is all right, but it is a mistake to suppose that Japan in the country from which our real menace comes, unless, indeed, misunderstanding the Japanese people, we do them injustice.

Experiments by a British expert of reforesting some of the hills of China have led to the establishment of a comprehensive course in forestry in a university in that country.

WOMAN SUFFRAGE WORKERS ACTIVE AT WASHINGTON

Washington, Dec. 6.—Woman suffrage workers, undismayed by defeat in eastern states last month or by the failure of the last congress to grant equal suffrage took their fight again today to the national capitol.

The Susan B. Anthony amendment introduced and defeated for many years, was introduced again today in the house by Representative Mondell of Wyoming. A colorful and picturesque demonstration by suffragists of many states, including a parade to the capitol, preceded the introduction.

The mammoth petition for equal suffrage brought Mrs. Sarah Bard of Oregon and Miss Frances Joliffe, of California, was lost at the last moment. It was about 18,000 feet long and bore approximately 600,000 names of voters in suffrage states. Another petition, however, contained several thousand names of voters in non-suffrage states, was presented to Representative Mondell on the east steps of the capitol, and the original will be given him if it is found. It disappeared somewhere between here and Wilmington, Del., from which city it was shipped by express.

Hundreds of suffragists marched to the outskirts of the capital early today to meet Mrs. Field and Miss Joliffe, who had come from San Francisco, by automobile to present the petition. Shortly before noon the procession to the capitol began. More than 1,000 women were in the line.

A crowd of twelve women, dressed in white, and carrying a banner proclaiming: "We demand the passage of the Susan B. Anthony amendment," came first. About a hundred congressmen stood with Representative Mondell when he received the petition.

"Under free government," he declared, in his address from the steps, "there can be no more important question than that of availing the suffrage right of half the people."

All the marchers later went to the White House where President Wilson received 300 visiting suffrage leaders. Miss Anne Martin of Nevada, speaking for them, congratulated the President on his stand for suffrage. Since he could not speak for his party on the question, she pointed out, he might speak to it, and she asked him to do that.

CLAIM ANCONA ATTACKED BY 2 SUBMARINES

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM] Washington, Dec. 6.—The state department received today a message from Consul Mason at Tanzi, giving the substance of an affidavit made by Giuseppe Torrisio, an Ancona survivor, to the effect that the Ancona was attacked simultaneously by two submarines, one on each side, the one on the port side shelling her.

Consul Mason's message follows: "Giuseppe Torrisio states he heard a shot while in the dining room, went on deck and saw the periscope of a submarine to the right of the Ancona. He then heard a shot on the other side of the Ancona, crossed the deck and saw a large grey submarine with two cannon on deck; did not notice flag."

"Torrisio was injured and rendered insensible by a life boat he was in falling. I have personally seen four persons who were wounded by the submarine's shells. The seriously wounded were left aboard the Ancona."

The tickling, tingling sensation that follows bumping the sharp corner of the elbow is the result of striking one of the large trunk nerves that runs through the arm to the wrist. At the point of the elbow this nerve lies over a bone. The sensation is painful rather than funny, but because it "tickles," the bone is spoken of as the "funny bone."

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM] New York, Dec. 6.—Postal officials here say the United States government will profit to the extent possibly of several million dollars in the forwarding Christmas money orders to the people of European nations this year, because of the low rate of exchange arising from the war.

It is estimated that $10,000,000 will be sent from New York city to individuals in Europe as Christmas presents within the next two weeks and that from all parts of the country three and a half times that amount will be transmitted by money orders.

NEWARK BEAUTY SECRETLY WEDS AT CINCINNATI

(Special to Advocate).
Cincinnati, O., Dec. 6.—The socially elect of this city today are avidly discussing the secret wedding of Miss Virginia Dadsdell of Newark, O., to Julius Stern, which it became known here today, took place at the Trinity Episcopal church at Covington, the Kentucky lovers' Gretna Green, on November 9th. The bride, a noted Ohio blonde beauty, has occasioned much interest in the city's select musical circles by her visits here and the wedding secret, as it develops, has created a decided sensation, for the groom is a leading figure in the Cincinnati Symphony orchestra. He comes from a wealthy family and has been educated under Hugo Breker at Frankfurt, Germany.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Jesse Dadsdell of 40 East Locust street and has lived in Newark for a few years since leaving Lafayette, Ind. She has been a student at the Cincinnati conservatory of music during the past few months, and the announcement of her marriage comes as a surprise to her many friends here.

LARGE CROWDS IN ATTENDANCE AT CENTRAL CHURCH

Large crowds attended the services at the Central Church of Christ all day yesterday. People were coming and going all day long. There was a large Bible School in the morning, at the close of which two more young people gave themselves to Christ. The subject of the morning sermon was: "The Reminiscences of an Old Man." It was the story of The Apostle John's life, beautifully told, and it made a profound impression upon the large audience. At three o'clock in the afternoon, two large crowds assembled, one of men in the auditorium, and another of women in the prayer-meeting room in the basement. Evangelist Brown delivered a masterly address to the men on the subject of "A Lopsided Man." Mrs. Brown spoke to an audience of women that overflowed the prayer-meeting room. Her subject was: "A Woman's Opportunity." Many were the expressions of appreciation of the helpfulness of her message. There was also a splendid attendance at the Christian Endeavor hour, followed by a capacity crowd in the church auditorium at 7 o'clock. During the service, two young men were baptized. Mr. William Leigh is a great leader of song, and he inspired the great crowd to sing last evening with unusual fervor. His solo was one that will not soon be forgotten by those who heard it. Mr. Brown's sermon on "Conversion," or "Heart-felt Religion," was a clear-cut and convincing exposition of what conversion really is. Two more persons took fellowship with the church in the evening.

No meeting tonight. Subject for Tuesday evening at 7:30: "The Old Jerusalem Gospel."

Suffragists Lose a Part of Their Monster Petition

[ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM] Washington, Dec. 6.—Prominent woman suffragists here are trying to clear up the mysterious loss of a part of the monster petition which has travelled across the continent for presentation to a committee of congress, demanding a federal woman suffrage amendment.

Perspiration

Many people who perspire very freely are accustomed to use a talcum powder and usually insist that it shall be borated, that is, that it shall contain boric acid. It is the boric acid (powdered boric) that does the work, makes everything sweet and clean and heals any little abrasion or inflammation that may exist.

A much quicker result and more satisfactory, at less expense, is obtained by using 20 Mule Team Powdered Boric pure. You get several times as much for your money as you do of borated talcum powder and every grain of it is efficient. Just commence using 20 Mule Team Powdered Boric instead of talcum powder and note the difference. For sale by all druggists.

Road To Health Is Through the Kidneys

No person alive is stronger than his kidneys. The minute the kidneys become disarranged or clogged with waste the warning is flashed throughout the entire system. The greater part of all sickness today can be avoided by keeping the kidneys working properly.

Most any reliable druggist in this vicinity can probably tell you of many well-known people whom Solvax, the standard kidney remedy, has restored to health, often after they have tried many other methods of treatment with little or no benefit.

There are hundreds of people who were not the least bit surprised when they read awhile ago that T. J. Evans selling Solvax on a guarantee to refund the money in case it did not relieve. This remarkable kidney remedy is guaranteed to help the worst case of lazy, sluggish, or clogged-up kidneys, or the general headachy, kinkybacked, played-out condition that afflicts people suffering with kidney trouble. Solvax does not simply relieve. It aims to cure.

The best kind of advertising is the praise of a pleased customer, and there are hundreds today praising Solvax because it has done for them what it is advertised to do. Not very long ago they were afflicted with all manner of sickness, uncomfortable pains and each day seemed to bring with it a new ache in some other part of their body. Since using Solvax they are once more bright and chipper and able to enjoy life at its fullest with no more fear of suffering.

We doubt if any other kidney remedy has made such a large percentage of cures as Solvax. It is so large that its owners are perfectly safe in standing ready to refund the price to any customer whom it does not help. This is a good time to get well and you ought to take advantage of this offer. Get it from T. J. Evans, or any well stocked drug store.

of men and women who really never know what it is to enjoy sound, vibrant health—who would be surprised to suddenly gain that exhilarating vitality that robust health brings.

Literally thousands without any particular sickness live in "general debility", as the doctors call it—have headaches, are tired and indifferent. To all such people we say with unmistakable earnestness—"Take Scott's Emulsion after meals for one month and allow its rare oil-food to enrich and enliven your blood, quicken your circulation, stimulate nutrition, and aid nature to develop that real red-blooded life that means activity, enjoyment, success."

Scott's Emulsion is not a drug, but a pleasant food- tonic—free from alcohol. One bottle may help you.

Caution With Gas Lights. Gas lights in a show window must be protected by a globe, chimney or screen to keep thin materials from blowing into them. Muslin, paper and celluloid will take fire if placed a foot and a half above the gas mantle.

A swinging gas bracket is dangerous in a window even with a pair of baseball masks around it. The swinging bracket should be shunned and outlawed everywhere except in the scrap pile.

Department Stores. Department stores have more fires from show window lights than from any other single cause and next comes spontaneous combustion in rubbish. These two causes are chargeable with half the number.

This is a good date for a fire drill in any large store. The dangers are exceptional now and the extra clerks need the instruction. The floor walker should put out the smoker or the smoker should put out his cigar.

A WELL KNOWN NEWARK FIREMAN MUCH BENEFITED

SAYS "ONE DOLLAR INVESTMENT IS WORTH HUNDREDS TO ME."

"Tanlac Relieved Stomach Trouble of Long Standing and Benefitted Catarrh."

Among the many people of Newark who already have been benefited by the use of the Master Medicine Tanlac is Mr. George R. House, a well known fireman at fire station No. 4 and who resides at 115 South Fifth street. Mr. House has had a severe case of stomach trouble for 5 years and not until he took Tanlac could he find anything to do him any good—but let him speak for himself. He says: "For five years I suffered from severe stomach trouble and later with catarrh and could find no relief from doctor's or any other source until good fortune brought me Tanlac and I bought one among the first bottles sold in Newark and have finished it and it has been worth to me a hundred times its cost both in benefiting stomach trouble and catarrh and I can recommend it to any and all similarly afflicted."

Tanlac the Master Medicine is equally as beneficial in Liver and Kidney trouble. Sleeplessness. Run-down, Out-of-Sort conditions and the after effects of Grippe and Pneumonia and is an excellent tonic and blood purifier. Tanlac now is being demonstrated and explained at Hall's Drug Store, here, by the Tanlac Man.

SHANGHAI

(Continued from Page 1.) was some rifle firing, but the arsenal troops acted promptly and calmly and repulsed the attackers. So far as has been learned there were no casualties at the arsenal. The three men who were killed and the five wounded were shot down on the Chao-Ho. A visit to the arsenal early this morning showed that the situation was normal. The Chinese authorities have handled the outbreak with the greatest coolness.

Circumstances disclosed today show that the crew of the Chao-Ho did not mutiny as was at first reported, but was overpowered by the rebels who went in a launch yesterday from the foreign settlement to the cruiser. The launch drew up alongside the Chao-Ho flying the admiral's flag. Admiral Sa Cheng-Ping was on board. There was about 45 men in the launch. They boarded the cruiser, each carrying a revolver and a bomb, concealed beneath handkerchiefs. The rebels whipped off the handkerchiefs concealing their weapons and covered the crew with their revolvers, threatening death unless their orders were obeyed instantly.

They compelled the crew to open fire on the arsenal and the other warships. The rebels were unable to make use of the heavier guns as an officer of the Chao-Ho threw overboard the keys to the magazines containing the six-inch and four-inch shells. His action probably saved the arsenal and the foreign settlement from serious damage. Numerous shells fell in the foreign concessions, but no serious harm was done.

"The chamber had in view only the defense of its own dignity and had no intention of interfering with the passage of urgent laws.

"All these concessions were insufficient to turn the government from its decision to dissolve the chamber and to proceed with the elections while all the men in the kingdom who could be mobilized were under arms.

"The ancient regime that was thought to have been abolished by the revolution of 1909, came again to life with the ministry of the month of February. Beaten in the elections, this regime concentrates all its forces today in a supreme effort to suppress the liberties of the people because it cannot live otherwise."

NEWARK MEN ENJOY A FINE GAME DINNER AT PERSIMMON POINT

Messrs. Charles and Augie Fox and Frank Williams entertained a number of friends at their hunting camp, Persimmon Point, near Hanover, Sunday. The attraction was a big dinner, and it certainly was a success. The menu embraced rabbit, coon and opossum, with scalloped oysters, celery, head lettuce, and all that goes to make up a first class game dinner, cooked by that prince of chefs, "Buck" Fox. An enjoyable feature of the afternoon were the imitations of oriental dancing by "Tobie" Livingston, aged 84 years. Those who went down from Newark were: Frank Fox, Joe Linkerton, Louie Fox, Fred Ellis, Edward Norman, Jack Ellis and P. M. Belmar.

The party missed the car at Hanover and was obliged to get taxicabs from Newark in order to reach home in time for breakfast Monday morning.

THE "TEN RING CIRCUS" PROVES GREAT SUCCESS

Staged in Town Hall at Granville by the Y. M. C. A.—News of the Thriving College Town.

(Special to the Advocate.)

Granville, Dec. 6.—The Granville Opera House was crowded on Saturday evening, December 4, with students and townspeople eager to see and to hear the stunts put on by the Y. M. C. A. under the sounding title of the "Ten Ring Circus." Perhaps "Amateur Night at the Vaudeville" more nearly describes the performance, although there was no "hook" and the winning cup or fraternity carried off the prize of a ten pound box of candy.

Each fraternity and each club was allowed a place on the program. No stunt was permitted more than six actors, nor more than twelve minutes, and the audience cast individual votes as to its preference for any one act. Although no great artistic merit attached to the performance as a whole, it accomplished its purpose. It was to raise a laugh, and give a more cheerful outlook at the work-a-day life. One act—a strictly non-partisan—stoutly maintained that for a high class stunt, Sigma Chi should have the prize, as they put on good music and real comedy. Another equally certain, felt that Beta Theta Pi with Jack Hundley as "Geraldine" was entitled to first, and another that Hickman as "Madame Human Shreek" should have won the candy. Be that as it may, "Vox populi" decided in favor of the "Sem Walters" and their gawky ghosts. The Empire Club captured the live pound box of candy, and Omega Psi Epsilon was handed the "beautiful turns."

The new Phi Delta Theta entertained their friends from Shepardson college Saturday evening in a most hospitable manner at the chapter house on Prospect Hill. After partaking of an appetizing repast, the company of seventy, including men of the chapter, alumni and ladies, repaired to the opera house to witness the entertainment given under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A., billed as the "Ten Ring Circus." Among the alumni present were Prof. and Mrs. C. E. Goodell, Prof. and Mrs. R. D. Pence, and Mr. Ivan Tannhill, who is spending a week or two with his parents in North Mulberry street.

Mrs. David Boveridge of Petoskey, Mich., with her little son is spending several weeks at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Ferguson in South Mulberry street.

Mr. and Mrs. Grove E. Jones, who have been visiting their mother, Mrs. B. L. Jones, since Thanksgiving, left today for Florida. Their headquarters will be in Tampa.

Mrs. Margaret Halderman, who has been visiting her daughters, Mrs. E. M. Jones of Portsmouth, and Mrs. Charles A. Lucas of Louisville, Ky., has returned to Monomoy Place, Broadway.

The executive committee of the Spencer Bible class will meet this evening at half past seven o'clock at the home of Mrs. H. A. Nixon in West Maple street.

Rev. Shailer Matthews, D. D., dean of the divinity school in the University of Chicago, occupied the pulpit of the Baptist church Sunday, both morning and evening. Dr. Matthews is the president of the Northern Baptist convention and the president of the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America, and his utterances carry the weight of his own rich experiences. The auditorium was crowded for both services, the other congregations of the village joining the Baptists in the evening service, which was inspiring and uplifting. Rev. Millard Brelsford conducted the union service and was assisted by Rev. Otto Geiser of the Methodist and Rev. E. D. Barnes of the Presbyterian church. Dr. Matthews believes in a federated church, and in his evening address he gave interesting experiences of his trip to Japan. He spoke to the Sunday school and to the Y. M. C. A. in the afternoon in Sherwin hall. It will doubtless interest many to know that Dr. Matthews will preside at the meeting in Columbus next Friday evening at which President Wilson will speak.
